Brief Analysis

Kataib Hezbollah is the premier militia in Iraq, operating under Iran's direct command and fielding a wide range of cells responsible for kinetic, media, and social operations, some bankrolled by the Iraqi state.

Name: Kataib Hezbollah (KH) (Battalions of the Party of God).

Type of movement: Tier 1 fasail (armed group). Kinetic military operations (domestic and foreign). Social and political wings. Parent organization. De facto branch of Iran’s Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps-Qods Force (IRGC-QF).

History and objectives:

- Coalesced from "special groups" operated by the IRGC-QF in 2005-2007.

- Listed by the United States as a Specially Designated Global Terrorist group in 2009 for attacking U.S. forces and destabilizing Iraq.

- Strongest individual faction in Iraq’s Popular Mobilization Forces (PMF), with control over key departments (chief of staff, security, intelligence, missiles, anti-armor).

Chain of command:

- Iran. Clear and convincing evidence shows that KH is subordinate to and partly financed by the IRGC-QF. Credible evidence shows that KH carries out specific actions under the IRGC-QF’s instructions, direction, or control. The preponderance of the evidence shows that Iran provides KH with financial assistance, military assistance, and intelligence sharing, as well as help in selecting, supporting, and supervising its leadership.

-about the authors-

Michael Knights

Michael Knights is the Jill and Jay Bernstein Fellow of The Washington Institute, specializing in the military and security affairs of Iraq, Iran, and the Persian Gulf states. He is a co-founder of the Militia Spotlight platform, which offers in-depth analysis of developments related to the Iranian-backed militias in Iraq and Syria.

Crispin Smith

Crispin Smith is an associate at a Washington-based national security law group. His research focuses on Iraqi security, human rights, and law of armed conflict issues. He is a co-founder of the Militia Spotlight platform, which offers in-depth analysis of developments related to the Iranian-backed militias in Iraq and Syria.

Hamdi Malik

Hamdi Malik is an Associate Fellow with the Washington Institute, specializing in Shia militias. He earned his doctorate at the school of social, political and global studies, Keele University. He is a co-founder of the Militia Spotlight platform, which offers in-depth analysis of developments related to the Iranian-backed militias in Iraq and Syria. He is the coauthor of the Institute’s 2020 study "Honored, Not Contained: The Future of Iraq’s Popular Mobilization Forces."
Internal leadership. KH is nominally governed by a Shura Council with a secretary general, five deputies and at least 33 total members, plus external “overseers” from IRGC-QF and/or Lebanese Hezbollah.

Multiple personal and financial powerbases exist within KH, partly aligning with different Shura Council members. Since a leadership election on July 29, 2021, the secretary general of KH Abu Hussein (Ahmad Mohsen Faraj al-Hamidawi) was de-selected in favor of Bassem Mohammed Hasab Al-Majidi, who was backed by Abd’al-Aziz al-Mohammadawi (Abu Fadak). Abu Hussein refused to surrender the leadership and the group is stuck in an interregnum of disputed leadership.

Partly financed by the Iraqi state. KH operates the state-funded 45th, 46th, and 47th Brigades of the PMF. Chain of command nominally runs through the KH-dominated Popular Mobilization Commission in the Prime Minister’s Office, then up to the prime minister. In practice, KH’s PMF brigades frequently disobey the government chain of command while legally remaining organs of the Iraqi state.

Affiliate relationships:

- Rivalry with Asaib Ahl al-Haq (https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/policy-analysis/profile-asaib-ahl-al-haq-0), Badr, and other resistance factions over profile and recruitment, giving way to coordination when such factions are all threatened.

Subordinate elements:

- 45th, 46th, and 47th Brigades of the PMF, an Iraqi state organ, plus Unit 313 and Unit 101 (both under Abu Fadak).

- KH Special Operations and KH Engineering/Explosives, both under Abu Hussein.

- Media wings:
  - The preponderance of the evidence suggests that at least part of Sabereen News (previously described as the KH Baghdad Media Cell) is controlled by KH.
  - Al-Etejah TV (/node/16939).

- Facade groups:

- Cultural and social wings:
