 Brief Analysis
Part of a series: Militia Spotlight \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/policy-analysis/series/militia-spotlight\) or see Part 1: How to Use Militia Spotlight \(/policy-analysis/how-use-militia-spotlight\)

Militia Spotlight presents a regularly updated tracker with the best-known information about drone, rocket, and missile attacks against U.S. and allied targets, which have intensified since the Gaza war broke out.

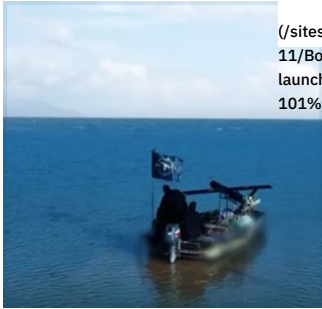

The table below is primarily a tally of attack claims against U.S. and Israeli targets by the Islamic Resistance in Iraq \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/node/18416\) (IRI) since it emerged on October 18, 2023, with a mix of claims by smaller emergent groups. (The "Islamic Resistance" is not a group itself, but a collective mechanism to claim attacks by existing U.S.-designated Foreign Terrorist Organizations such as Kataib Hezbollah \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/node/16641\), Asaib Ahl al-Haq \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/node/16715\), Harakat Hezbollah al-Nujaba \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/node/16716\), Kataib Sayyid al-Shuhada, and \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/node/16731\) Ansar Allah al-Awfiya \(https://www.washingtoninstitute.org/node/18506\).)

The table went through multiple data scrubs to render the stats more accurate. Overall, IRI claims are still quite reliable indicators of real attacks. This suggests a high but imperfect level of coordination and communication between groups using the IRI brand.

Attacks fall into two categories:

- Claimed attacks on U.S. and coalition bases in Iraq and Syria, which were the predominant category until the temporary cessation of anti-U.S. attacks in February-July 2024. When we can confirm attacks, we have given them a serial number in the lefthand column. We can have very high confidence these claimed anti-coalition attacks actually occurred. Since September 2024, the number of anti-U.S. strikes in Syria seems to be increasing again, but it is very hard to get high-confidence evidence of these attacks.
- Claimed attacks on Israel, which have been by far the most prominent Iraqi attacks reported since February 2024. These attacks do not receive a serial number. The claim rate is increasing strongly: from six attacks in August, to 37 in September, to 111 in October (all 2024). We have moderate confidence that many of these attacks actually occurred, though this confidence has declined since October 2024, when growing re-use of launch video material suggests a higher rate of possible fake claims. There is very little evidence of effective strikes in Israel itself, suggesting a very low arrival rate due to interceptions over Syria, Iraq, and Jordan.
