

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Israel have agreed to a deal that would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

<https://www.reuters.com/world/middle-east/us-start-un-negotiations->

\(/thursday-international-gaza-force-mandate-2025-11-06

The deal, which was announced by U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, would allow Israel to continue its military operations in Gaza while the U.S. provides humanitarian aid to the Palestinian people.

