David Pollock is the Bernstein Fellow at The Washington Institute, focusing on regional political dynamics and related issues.

Actions matter more than words, says Arab politics scholar David Pollock, but incitement by Palestinians and Israelis sometimes leads to violent deeds.

David Pollock, the Kaufman Fellow at The Washington Institute and director of Fikra Forum, speaks with APN about the latest developments in Gaza and other issues affecting the prospects for long-term peace. He also discusses his 2013 study Beyond Words (<http://www.washingtoninstitute.org/policy-analysis/view/beyond-words-causes-consequences-and-cures-for-palestinian-authority-hate-s>), assessing the impact of Israeli-Palestinian incitement and ways to reduce it.
